LMPC Calendar of Online Events for 2020 (July through December)

Spurred on by the success of Social Distancing, Not Social Isolation: A Family Systems Perspective, our first venture in Zoom video conferencing, we are now offering a wide range of online events over the next few months. We remain committed to helping the body of Christ achieve health and wholeness as best we can during the current pandemic. Some of the titles below are old favorites that “friends of LMPC” will quickly recognize; other titles are new and are particularly relevant in the contemporary context. Please join us for one or more of the events listed below. Register at: <https://www.brownpapertickets.com/producer/720852>

Webinars – 90 Minutes in Duration – Presented via Zoom

Breaking Free: Finding Resilience in an Era of Collective Trauma

This webinar will explore the issue of trauma in the current context of both the COVID-19 crisis and the public killing of George Floyd. Grounded in family systems theory, Breaking Free will help participants identify the impact of trauma on themselves and others, discuss strategies to break free from trauma, and find resilience. It will be offered on July 16 and July 30 – presented by Rev. Jay Wittmeyer, LMPC Executive Director.

Grief in the Time of COVID-19: A Family Systems Approach to Pastoral Care

The COVID-19 pandemic has significantly impacted our experience of grief, from the ability for families to grieve the loss of a loved one, to the more ambiguous grief of the loss of our pre-pandemic ways of life. COVID19 presents a unique challenge to faith leaders, and while we don't yet know the long-term impact of COVID-19 on grief, we must find a way to provide adequate pastoral care, even in an era of social distancing. It will be offered on August 13 and August 27 – presented by Sarah Howell, LMPC Assistant Director.

Casting the First Stone: Mimetic Contagion and Church Conflict

The webinar explores unhealthy togetherness forces and the herding instinct from a family systems perspective, along with an overview of René Girard's thinking on the way mimetic contagion impacts a group and can lead to scapegoating. Images of Jesus and the Woman Taken in Adultery are integrated into the presentation, tracing how the theme developed in Christian iconography, with the ultimate purpose being to reflect on Jesus' model of how to stop the potential violence of mimetic contagion. It will be offered on September 16, September 29, and October 29 – presented by Rev. Richard Blackburn, LMPC Director Emeritus and Senior Consultant.

From Sports Fanaticism to Spiritual Revival: Discerning the Thoughts and Intentions of the Heart: We are sorry, but this event has been cancelled.

The Language We Use: Agreeing and Disagreeing in Love

This webinar will explore both the theological implications of and the practical tools to address the seemingly ever-growing division our society continues to experience. Grounded in our call to "love our neighbor as we love ourselves," we will explore how to effectively communicate with those with whom we disagree, while staying true to our core beliefs. It will be offered on December 2 and December 16 – presented by Rev. Jay Wittmeyer, LMPC Executive Director.
